Let Our Tax Deduction Consultants Give You Advice on Tax Planning And Keep More of the Profits You've Worked So Hard to Earn

Attention fellow traders,

As a Trader or Investor, your biggest expense is your tax bill. And though he or she may not admit it, your CPA isn't always as equipped to help you lower it as a professional tax deduction consultant.

The IRS thrives on complexity, and it seems they have a special interest in gouging traders like you. They've got you in their crosshairs. This is why it is so important to get proper advice on your tax planning.

With ammunition like that trained on you, you need more than an over-booked general CPA. You need specialized tax deduction consultants who live and breathe tax law as it applies to traders.

People who avidly read those complicated Tax Court rulings and IRS code from cover to cover. Who know what the latest ins and outs are.

People who can save you thousands of dollars with their advice on tax planning – whether you show a profit or a loss.

People like us.

Important Rule Changes That Can Cost You Money

Each year, the IRS Tax court issues multiple rulings that affect traders. Recent rulings have addressed questions such as:

- Can you get an extension to file the Mark to Market designation?
- Is there a way to deduct more than $3,000 in losses each year?
- Can income from other sources interfere with your Trader Status?
- Can you use IRA Trades to justify your Trader Status?
- How is your FOREX trading taxed? Is it capital gain?

Does your accountant give you this kind of up to date advice on tax planning? If your accountant doesn't know these rulings inside and out, you could very well wind up paying more taxes than necessary. And that's only the beginning.

Are you set up properly for next year? Is it possible that a few slight changes could save you thousands next April as well? Are you following a Tax Prep Program that will start working now, to save you money in the future?

Traders Accounting: The Nation's Top Experts On Cutting Your Tax Burden

It's time to use an accountant and tax deduction consultant who actually knows the rules for traders, instead of those who just act like they do.

Traders Accounting was founded by a former IRS agent who knows the inside story on what works and what doesn't. Today, we employ the nation's top authorities on Trader Taxation.
